VW Golf speedster nabbed

A 24 year-old motorist is due to appear in Scottburgh, KwaZulu Natal magistrates court this morning after being arrested for speeding.

The man from Bluff in Durban was allegedly travelling at 224 km on the N2 south yesterday.

He was briefly detained at Scottburgh police before being released on R5000 bail. He was driving a Golf 6 GTi when the offence was committed.

Excessive speed and reckless and negligent driving are major factors behind the high number of road deaths in South Africa.

The Road Traffic Management Corporation calls for a very heavy sentence to be handed down to speedster including the cancellation of his driver's licence.
